

Produce relational representations for your modelling solutions to the problems specified in Practical 1.

For each model:

- form the appropriate relations by specifying their attributes
- for each relation define its primary key
- produce referential integrity diagrams and describe the correspondences between the primary & foreign keys
- identify/describe the transaction that causes the biggest update propagation.